

NAGC WOW Series of FREE Webinars

The National Association of Gifted Children (NAGC) is presenting an exciting new opportunity to the gifted education community. Webinars on Wednesday (WOW) are designed for classroom teachers, counselors, graduate students, parents, g/t coordinators, and administrators to provide top-notch educational content to the community. Experts in the field of gifted education will share practical advice and updates on the latest issues in gifted education.

WOW is FREE for a limited time! Tune in on the 2nd and 4th Wednesday monthly to learn about issues related to gifted education. There are a limited number of seats available, so be sure to register two weeks prior to each event. Find more details at <http://www.nagc.org/WOW.aspx>

Sessions:

August 26, 2009; 7 PM EST

Classroom Indicators of Giftedness

Presented by Mary Slade

James Madison University, Harrisonburg, Virginia

Description:

All aspects of gifted programming must emanate from students' unique educational needs. Gifted and talented learners are different from their same-age peers because of advanced cognitive, psychosocial, and physiological development. These development differences, as well as a host of outside influences, are expressed through a range of student behaviors and other indicators. Participants learn how to recognize the behaviors of gifted people and how to meet the needs of those individuals. This session discusses characteristics, traits, related needs, and the impact of the environment on the expression of giftedness.

Register now at <https://www2.gotomeeting.com/register/674308226>

September 9, 2009, 12PM EST (Registration opens: August 27)

Differentiation Overview

Presented by Jennifer Beasley

University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, Arkansas

September 16, 2009, 7 PM EST (Registration Opens: September 3)

Parent Night

Back to School. Back to Gifted.

Presented by Robin Schader, NAGC Parent Resource Advisor

September 23, 2009, 7 PM EST (Registration Opens September 10)

Things Administrators Should Know about Gifted Education

Presented by Joyce Van Tassel-Baska

College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia

October 14, 2009, 12 PM EST (Registration Opens: September 24)

PreAssessment: What are the Tools?

October 28, 2009, 7 PM EST (Registration Opens: October 15)

Examining the Myths and Truths of Gifted Education