

Progress Checkpoints

Advanced learners satisfy the requirements of school and work situations and narrate and describe in paragraph-length discourse.

Intermediate learners create sentences to ask and answer questions, communicate about personal history or leisure activities, and meet basic survival needs

Novice learners use single words, phrases, and common expressions they have learned on basic, everyday topics

Amount of language increases

Complexity of language increases

A Texas Framework for Languages Other Than English, Project ExCELL.(1997). Southwest Educational Development Laboratory. Texas Education Agency.