

Course Description – Anatomy and Physiology

Anatomy and Physiology is a college preparatory course designed to extend the student's knowledge and understanding of the human body in respect to its structure and function. A survey of each organ system is presented with initial emphasis upon its anatomy, followed by an in-depth study of its physiology. This course is lab-oriented and teaches proper dissection techniques as well as various physiological phenomena. This course is recommended for student pursuing an education in the medical sciences.