Not sure which course is right for you?

Check these out:

Journalism 1: The basics! New to this style of writing? This course is perfect for you. Journalism 1 is a full year, one credit course that explores different forms of media and communication and allows students to learn to write in various forms for various audiences and purposes. We'll learn media law and ethics, journalistic traditions, and have fun exploring new ways of writing.

Newspaper (Advanced Journalism I, II, III): Imagine your name in print - SO cool, right?! Join a stellar staff that writes for the world. In this class, we'll plan, draft, and complete written and visual communications on a regular basis, carefully examining our work for clarity and engaging language, all while fulfilling journalistic ethics and standards. This is an exciting, fast-paced class with deadlines that creates online and print publications of our newspaper.

- Students must be able to attend school events/activities and stay after school when necessary

- Students must have the recommendation of the journalism adviser to enroll in this course

- Courses must be taken in sequence

Prerequisites: Journalism 1 OR a teacher recommendation

Yearbook (Advanced Journalism I, II, III): Love to write, but maybe more into the design and photography side of journalism? Look no further. The yearbook staff wants YOU! In this class, we learn advanced publishing skills, interviewing and design techniques, and stylistic writing skills. We work as leaders and as a team in an exciting, fast-paced environment with deadlines to create the annual yearbook - treasured and remembered by the whole school. You make the year, we make the book!
