

Cypress-Fairbanks ISD Trusted Learning Environment Workshop – February 27, 2018

Privacy and Security Concerns

School System Leaders Are Concerned

 According to the results of the 2017 Consortium of School Networking (CoSN) Leadership Survey, 61% of technology leaders identified privacy and security as a primary concern.

Parents Are Concerned

 In the 2016 Future of Privacy Forum survey results, 84% of parents are concerned that their child's electronic education records could be hacked or stolen.

Incidents Are On the Rise By 100%

• Since 2016, hundreds of K–12 schools and districts experienced one or more publicly disclosed cyber incidents.

School District Must Take Action

In 2016, an audit of some 1,200 web-based education software products by the nonprofit Common Sense Education found that nearly half the offerings didn't automatically encrypt student data.

Privacy and Security Concerns

• "If our student data is hacked, it might just be a test score, but it could also be their Social Security number, or their disability information," she said. "It can impact them for the rest of their lives."

Melissa Tebbenkamp, Director of Instructional Technology, Raytown School District

• "The first line of defense in protecting student privacy are our teachers, and we're not making sure that they have the tools to keep that data safe,"

Amelia Vance, Policy Counsel Future of Privacy Forum

Legislative Focus

- According to Data Quality Campaign, since 2013,
  - state legislatures have considered about 400 student data privacy bills
  - state legislatures have passed more than 70 into law
- Texas passed HB 2087, in effect September 1, 2017
  - Relating to restricting the use of covered information, including student personally identifiable information, by an operator of a website, online service, online application, or mobile application for a school purpose.

Data Privacy Training Needed

- Schools should target common missteps, such as recycling passwords or working with sensitive information on an unsecured Wi-Fi network.
- Ensure every teacher knows the basics of privacy laws, such as the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act, which requires parental consent for any web service collecting "personally identifiable information" of children under 13, including photographs and voice recordings.
- Train teachers to clearly inform parents about what student information their classroom technology will use and why.

Amelia Vance, Policy Counsel Future of Privacy Forum

Districts should ask. . .

• "Before any bits get passed anywhere, educators should be trained to ask, 'Does this data need to be collected to help students learn?' If so, 'How is it going to be protected?' "

Bill Fitzgerald Privacy Initiative Director Common Sense Education

Student Data Privacy Consortium

- In the past four years, a dozen states, have joined Cambridge Public Schools in the Student Data Privacy Consortium.
- Requiring the same contractual privacy protections from their software vendors.
- Consortium keeps a searchable database of ed-tech software being used by partner districts, including the specific types of data being collected and stored.
- Texas has joined
- Cypress-Fairbanks is actively using their membership

Trusted Learning Environment Developed

- Started as an initiative of CoSN (the Consortium for School Networking), in partnership with AASA, the School Superintendents Association, the Association of School Business Officials International (ASBO), and ASCD.
- July, 2015 Characteristics of a Trusted Learning Environment identified by 28 diverse school system from across the country.
- September, 2015 CoSN asked 50 technology leaders to validate the identified Trusted Learning Environment practices in 5 areas
  - Leadership
  - Business
  - Data Security
  - Classroom
  - Professional Development
- The TLE Seal is the only data privacy seal for school systems, focused on building a culture of trust and transparency.
