Thursday April 18, 4-9pm

The Cy-Falls student education and training program, along with the other 11 CFISD high school education and training programs, are having a districtwide fundraiser next Thursday, April 18th from 4:00-9:00 at multiple Raising Cane's locations. They are raising money for their districtwide conference that will take place at the Berry Center for students that are taking high school classes to be become future teachers. You would just need to say that you are donating to the CFISD Future Teachers in Training program when you go through the drive thru or dine in. They will have students and all sorts of fun things planned in the restaurant if you would like to dine-in and join the fun. This would be a great treat for the kids in the midst of STAAR testing! Good luck to everyone!

We would appreciate your support for our Cy-Falls and CFISD future teachers!
