Title: Psychology Scholarships for All Psychology Majors & Financial Aid for Psychology Students

Deadline: varies

Award Amount: varies

Program Description/History:

Fellowships, grants, and scholarships are by far the most desirable form of financial aid; unlike loans, they don’t generally require a payback. You may be eligible to apply and compete for multiple scholarships and grant programs, some of which are open only to psychology undergraduate and graduate students.

Check out the websites below for scholarship and financial information.

These sites will help you figure out whether (and how) to pursue a fellowship, grant, or scholarship.
