

K-12 PROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP

UNIVERSITY of HOUSTON | EDUCATION

Change the world in the field of professional leadership.

The Executive Ed.D. in K-12 Professional Leadership prepares students for professional and administrative leadership positions in a variety of settings. The program provides intensive research and applied skills for students grappling with real-world concerns in education. Students bring the most pressing concerns experienced by the educational community to each course. The K-12 Professional Leadership doctoral program places a strong emphasis on reflective, creative, and critical thinking when dealing with problems and dilemmas. It develops professional leadership, ethical, interpersonal and intrapersonal skills through coursework, laboratory of practice, completion of a doctoral thesis, and participation in the TExES Superintendent Certificate (195) test.

The Ed.D. offers a number of distinctive benefits, including:

- A program structure that enables fully employed professionals to earn a doctorate in less than 3 years in face-to-face session format, while continuing to manage their career if they are registered full-time which includes
- Summer semesters;
- Concentration areas tailored to specific career interests;
- Personalized academic and career advisement; and
- A cohort structured program where students help students and develop a learning community.

The program prepares graduates for academic leadership positions in the following settings:

- K-12 Schools;
- Technical Schools;
- Adult Schools;
- Educational Agencies; and
- School District Offices.

For more information, contact delps@uh.edu.

coe.uh.edu/departments/elps/

Cypress-Fairbanks Cohort

Educational Leadership & Policy Studies Ed.D.

- The Executive Ed.D. in K-12 Professional Leadership Program at the University of Houston prepares students to be effective leaders in a variety of educational settings. The program provides intensive research and applied skills for students grappling with real-world concerns in education administration, management, and policy fields. Successful progress through the program requires academic, intrapersonal, interpersonal, and professional skill development.
- Application deadline (for Fall 2019 admission): June 1, 2018 (admissions website: <http://www.uh.edu/education/admissions/graduate/admission-app-instructions/>)
- Please visit <http://www.uh.edu/education/departments/elps/> for information about the department, mission, degree programs, faculty and staff, DELPS centers and institutes, testimonials, and more.
- UH Cy-Fair cohort to begin in Fall semester 2019. Classes will be held in Cy-Fair. Several information sessions will be offered in February and March, in Cy-Fair, to provide additional information.
- For more information please contact Dr. April Peters-Hawkins, Associate Department Chair, at apeters-hawkins@uh.edu (713-743-9542) or Dr. Bradley Carpenter, Program Director, at bcarpenter@uh.edu (713-743-8868).