

K-Level Extensions for ENG III

Edgenuity – May 11th

Touring American Literature: Modernism to Contemporary Literature

Literary Text: You may want to reference previous stories you have read

Write a short narrative essay that details a special moment from your life. Use literary techniques from the fiction you have read – such as character development, dialogue, and sensory imagery -- to help the reader feel what you were feeling in that moment.

K-Level Extensions for ENG III

Learning At Home Packet – May 11th

Directions: Follow the instructions for the RECORD and READ sections of the lesson. Then, follow the instructions below for the RESPOND section of the lesson after reading watching the video on satire, and reading the excerpt from The Machine That Won the War by Isaac Asimov.

RESPOND: Analyzing Satire

Support each of your answers to the questions below with evidence from the text.

1. What aspect of society or humanity is the author criticizing?
2. Why do you think the author uses satire to criticize this aspect of society?
3. Is the author's use of satire effective? Why or why not?